Year of the Water Rabbit 癸卯年 2023

Hi everyone,

We will be crossing into 2023, the year of the Water Rabbit (癸卯年), 癸 is Water Element (水) and 卯 is Wood Element (木) and it will be a productive combination of the Heavenly Stem and Earthly Branch. The Ying Water Element will enhance the Ying Wood Element thus establishing a smooth flow of Positive Universal Qi (气) that will reduce the negative effects of Global Warming because the increased rainfall would benefit the production of plants, which will reduce the heat and damage to Gaia. However, we would still need to put in a lot of efforts to reduce deforestation and chemical waste, that will cause damage to our Ozone Layer.

Since a few years back, there was an increase in serious violent acts from people all over the world, plus the sudden attack of Covid 19, which has affected the entire earth. This effect will continue to spread around the world. Thus, it is crucial that we maintain a healthy body and mind, so that we will recover faster with the help of the improved Universal Qi.

Learn to relax and rejoice in every small little achievement, engaging in frequent exercises, proper diet and meditation will do us good in many ways. Do take note to be more caution as we move into the Summer Season (夏季) as there will be some Seasonal clashes between the Water and Fire Element as the Southern wind starts coming in, there will be increase in natural disasters and sickness.

While we focus on creating or maintaining Positive Energy, it would be a good time to make full use of the year 2023 to build as much resources as possible. Do not take unnecessary risks unless you are very sure of yourself and done enough homework to ensure that you can succeed. If you are more than 90% sure of your business planning, taking all factors into consideration, you can still be successful in this year. Try our best not to pressure ourselves and our children too much, because life is not only about paper chase, but we also must live within our means, save for rainy days, and give our children the best moral education that we can, so that they won't become proud, arrogant and snobbish people with narrow hearts.

2023 is also the year with a new beginning of Period Nine, the Fengshui Cycle has Nine Periods and there will be a change of Periods every 20 years per cycle. We were in Period Eight from 2003 to 2022, now we are entering Period Nine and this is the most powerful number in numerology (九武至尊). Please note that being in the most powerful 20 years of Period Nine might also have some adverse effects if we cannot handle the strength of this Supreme Number Nine. We might experience or be directly impacted by the economic downturn around the world which might happen any time soon, especially when we are about to enter into Period Nine.

Despite the potential economic downturn, trades and industries related to the Water, Wood and Fire Elements would be better than those related to the Earth and Metal element, for example building and financial related businesses. We hope to have a good start and the best 20 years ahead, starting from 2023 to turn the situation around (扭转乾坤).

As the Rat, Rabbit, Dragon, Horse and Rooster will conflict with “Tai Sui” (太岁) in 2023, there is a need to pray to “Tai Sui” (太岁) for good health and fortune throughout the year. The prayers can start on or after the first day of Lunar New Year 2023, however the ideal date to pray “Tai Sui” (太岁) will be on (正月初八日) 8th day and (正月十五日) 15th day of the Lunar 1st Month.

The Animal Signs that need to pray to Tiger God (虎爷) will be Rat, Rabbit, Horse and Rooster. The prayers can be done on or after (二月十五日) 06/03/2023 (Day Conflict Snake).

For those who are in direct or indirect conflict with the “Tai Sui” (太岁) or needs to pray to the Tiger God (虎爷), it will be advisable for you to carry a small pocketsize Pi Xiu ”貔貅” aka Tian Lu “天禄” as well as placing a bigger one at home or office for protection, bringing “Benefactors” (贵人) to help you smoothen the rocky path ahead and enhance your luck. Most importantly to help you ward off unwanted “Xiao Ren” (小人) and to appease “Tai Sui” (太岁).

Best wishes for a year blessed with Health, Wealth and Happiness!

我祝贺大家在新的一年里，瑞氣滿堂，登峰造極！

Compatible Animal Signs – Rat, Dragon and Monkey
Conflict Animal Sign – Horse

The basic character of a person born in the year of the Rat is that he/she is optimistic, gentle, wise, intelligent, intuitive, a self starter, helpful, active, sociable, honest, full of energy and self confidence. An artistic person who has a keen sense of the surroundings and can develop keen intuition with proper guidance.

There are many “Lucky Stars” (吉星) surrounding you this year and hardly any “Disastrous Stars” (凶星) around. You will see a successful career and business as you are blessed by the many “Lucky Stars” (吉星) above you! This is the best year to start up your own business or kick start your long-awaited plans.

Try to garner support and trust from people around you; they are crucial to your success. Just note that your success will create “Red Eyes” of jealousy, thus you must stay humble and share credits with your peers and colleagues. Don’t get too carried away or you will invite the Xiao Ren (小人) into your life and create havoc.

The best thing to do is to avoid direct confrontation, do not be too quick in your words, and think carefully before you act. Beware of your speech and actions because it will create a big stir and the repercussions will be disastrous if you are not careful. In terms of financial investments, you would have to be more careful and plan your strategy carefully.

Health is not much of an issue this year. However, mental health will be the main concern, learn to relax and let go of your pride and do not judge too quickly. This will lower your unnecessary mental stress. Control your diet and have enough sleep, avoid excessive drinking.

Love Life will be good because there will be a “Hong Luan Star” (红鸾星), it will bring lots of human relation luck to you and it will also attract lots of opposite sex to you. If you are still single and you are intending to settle down, do not let this opportunity slips away. However, for those who are already married, do take note not to be too involved in entertainment or after office hour activities with the opposite sex or it will affect your family life.

Please pray to “Tai Sui” (太岁) and “Tiger God” (虎爷) to help clear your path this year as well as to have better health throughout the year. It is also advisable for you to carry a small Pocket Size Pi Xiu ”貔貅” aka Tian Lu “天禄” with you for protection too.

Conflict Animal Sign – Goat

The basic character of a person born in the year of the Ox is that he/she is very honest, trustworthy, hard working; has a strong sense of integrity and strong willed. This person is a very good worker as well as one who depends on his/her own strength and capability to earn success and recognition.

Health is not good, be careful, as you will be more prone to be injured in minor accidents, thus keep an extra lookout when you are operating machineries, driving or crossing the road. Do not speed or drive rashly. Take extra caution when handling sharp objects.

You are surrounded by many “Disastrous Stars” (凶星) and only a few “Lucky Stars” (吉星) to deflect that bad ones. Career and business wise will be quite rough; it is best to avoid interfering into others’ affairs or problems. You would really need to stand your ground instead of trying to win all the wars. Sometimes, it is best to do nothing when faced with a difficult situation and let it pass by naturally instead of cracking the brain to try and solve it. Trying to solve everything might sometimes make it worst because not everything will have an immediate solution to it.

In view of this situation, you need to be extra careful with everything that you do. Always prepare in advance and include contingency or backup plans to support you. You will need to study and plan very carefully whenever business and financial related investments are concerned. There will be many head on clashes with others, thus, try as much as possible to remain calm and avoid direct conflicts. Also try your best not to be involved in any mediation for others’ problems; staying out of it will be good for you.

Health is not good, be careful especially nearer to year-end, as you will be more prone to sickness and getting injured in minor accidents, thus keep an extra lookout when you are operating machineries, driving, or crossing the road. Do not speed or drive rashly and take extra caution when handling sharp objects. Those who are medically fit, you should consider donating blood as much as possible and for those who are not able to donate blood, you can also donate medicine to those Free Clinics. You can also place an Infinity Knot “如意结” or small Tian Lu “天禄” inside your car if you are driving daily.

Love Life will experience minor hiccups this year, thus it would be good to lower down your pride and discuss calmly with your partner to settle relationship issues. Be very patient and build up your endurance, most importantly, learn to take a few steps back before you make crucial decisions so that you will be able to see the bigger picture.

Compatible Animal Signs – Tiger, Dog and Horse
Conflict Animal Sign – Monkey

The basic character of a person born in the year of the Tiger is that he/she is very Independent, Ambitious, Adventurous, Sharp and Practical. This person is likely to work abroad if given a chance. Although he/she likes being a Lone Ranger most of the time because of the high level of independence and ambition, there is no way he/she will give in to others until the last breath or submit without giving a good fight.

There is mixture of both “Disastrous” (凶星) and “Lucky” Stars (吉星) this year, however, there will be a great chance for a good career path and advancement or business success happening along the way.

You should hold your ground, remain calm and focused, so that you will not be caught in a situation where you will lose your head. You can turn any adverse thoughts into positive force through calmness in your strategic plannings.

Being a careful person with good judgmental skills, you will be able to build very strong foundations in your career and family. However, do be careful to avoid being too practical and realistic that you lose your personal touch as well as true hearted friends. Try to garner support and trust from people around you; they are crucial to your success.

The best thing to do is to avoid direct confrontation, do not be too quick in your words, and think carefully before you act. Beware of your speech and actions because it will create a big stir and the repercussions will be disastrous if you are not careful. Luck is not very good; thus you have to keep as much as possible and spend wisely.

The basic character of a person born in the year of the Rabbit is that he/she is very sensitive, gentle, optimistic, meticulous and alert. He/she is also a joyous person who enjoys the peace and serenity in life. A kind hearted person, who is well liked by many people and able to gain never-ending assistance throughout the whole life.

This person will be a natural good leader because of the capability to gain respect from others instead of demanding for it. However, being too over sensitive will lead to insecurity, lack of confidence and suspiciousness of others. Try to be more relaxed whenever possible and try not to be stressed up by over sensitive reactions.

There are many “Disastrous Stars” (凶星) and not much “Lucky Stars” (吉星) around to help you ward them off, thus, you will be facing an uphill situation. There will be many challenges both in work and family life. It is advisable that you take a few steps back and look at every situation thoroughly before you make your next move.

Stay positive and you will have a few “Benefactors” (贵人) to help you along the way to help you defend against a handful of “Xiao Ren” (小人) who are plotting to harm you. You should seriously refrain from gambling and take it easy this year, do not be too greedy when it comes to investments; pull out once there is quite a good return of investment.

Please pray to “Tai Sui” (太岁) to help clear your path this year as well as to have better health throughout the year. You should also pray to “Tiger God” (虎爷) for protecting against “Xiao Ren” (小人) and also a safe year ahead.

It is also advisable for you to carry a small Pocket Size Pi Xiu ”貔貅” aka Tian Lu “天禄” plus an Infinity Knot “如意结” with you for protection and to smoothen your path ahead.

Health is not good this year, beware of accidents and illness that will fall upon you, thus seek early treatments before it becomes too serious to handle. Control your diet and have enough sleep, avoid excessive drinking. Drive with extra caution and avoid dangerous sports or travelling to places that have potential dangers related to water activities and long-distance driving. Please do some blood donations if you can, or you can also donate medical items, which will help to prevent unforeseen situations.

Love Life will be quite affected, you must refrain from blowing your top too frequently over small issues between you and your loved one; otherwise, you will be caught in serious problems pertaining to relationship. Quarrels between spouse and family members will increase, thus you must stay calm and think of the bigger picture before sharing your frank opinions.
